The invocation was offered by Stephen Bratton, pastor, Grace Family Baptist Church, Houston, as follows:

O great God, Trinity: Father, Son, and Holy Spirit, thank you for the blessing we have of being in this beautiful room today to serve the people of this great state. You have ordained each person to be in this place for your purposes and have given each one present life, breath, and abilities to be used for the good of your people and the benefit of the citizens of Texas. O Lord, I ask that you give humility to these members. Your word tells us that you "lift up the humble" and "cast the wicked to the ground." I pray that the members of this house, those whom you have ordained as your servants for the good of those who seek righteousness, would be humble. I pray that civility and generosity would be seen in this place today and that each person here would understand the truth that every human is an image bearer of God and as such deserves respect and honor from their fellow men.

I pray that righteousness would prevail in this place and that these representatives would desire to put away violence and oppression, bringing an end to injustice and tyranny. I pray that they would seek to execute justice and righteousness in every way, looking to your moral law to understand how we are to treat one another. I pray for the speaker of this house, that you would grant him wisdom. Help him to lead with courage and strength. Make his mind sharp and fill him with your spirit. We ask that the laws discussed in this great hall would be laws that lead to equal justice for every citizen and that they would be rooted in the wisdom of your word handed down to us from the prophets and apostles with Jesus Christ being the cornerstone. And we ask all of these things in the name of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ who taught us to pray: Our Father in heaven, hallowed be your name. Your kingdom come. Your will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread and forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors. Lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one. For yours is the kingdom and the power and the glory forever. Amen.
